

Cambridge Natural History Society

Founded in 1857 as Cambridge Entomological Society

www.cnhs.org.uk
events@cnhs.org.uk

CNHS is open to everyone interested in natural history: palaeontology conservation entomology ecology zoology geology botany & more!

Bees, bee conservation & bee roads

Thursday 4th February 7:30 – 9:00 pm

Rosie Bleet is Kent Wildlife Trust's Pollinator Lead and will introduce you to the diverse bee fauna of the UK, highlighting some species that you may encounter. She will talk about the "Bee Roads" project, working to restore and reconnect habitat for bees on road verges in north Kent.

ONLINE via Zoom

Members will be emailed login details nearer the time

To be added the mailing list for events email [webmaster \[at\] cnhs.org.uk](mailto:webmaster[at]cnhs.org.uk)

To become a member see details on the website: www.cnhs.org.uk

