

Coton Countryside Reserve

The following tables list the species that the CNHS recorded on walks round the Reserve during 2010. Recording is on a monad basis. Some species may be mis-identified. Lack of a tick does not necessarily indicate that the species isn't present. Individual record cards of vascular plants for each monad are on the web, species crossed out have been recorded in the reserve in its widest sense, those with the number crossed out have only been noted outside the reserve.

Status: C = scarce in Cambridgeshire, N = nationally scarce,

Key: C = caterpillar, D = dead, E = garden escape, I = introduced (eg in spoil), P = planted, X = sighting (or heard or signs), J or T = not in reserve, but in monad.

Rare species reported in the past: juncus tenuis (wet meadow), rubus babingtonianus (412585), scandix pecten-veneris (edge of track leading to sewage works in 1995), sambucus ebulus (hill opposite wheatcases), lathyrus aphacca (coton footpath, but not west of motorway). Other rare species have been reported in the area, but either not in the last 50 years, or with no location.

Rare species found: Chrysanthemum segetum, Euphorbia exigua, Euphorbia platyphylos, Sagina apetela apetela (on motorway bridge), Vicia parviflora, and the lichens Caloplaca ulcerosa, Lecania cyrtellina, Piccolia ochrophora

Species to look for; common are those frequent in Cambridgeshire, general are those previously reported from the Reserve; those for the monads have been seen in the other three:
