

Nature in Cambridgeshire
No 62 2020

Nature in Cambridgeshire

The natural history journal for Cambridgeshire

The Journal was begun in 1958 by CAMBIENT a forerunner of the BCN Wildlife Trust. By 1984 the Wildlife Trust wanted to go their own way and it became an independent publication in 1986.

The cover of the first issue showed Lime Kiln Close as it used to be. The image clearly shows just how overgrown it has become since then.

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 37 1995

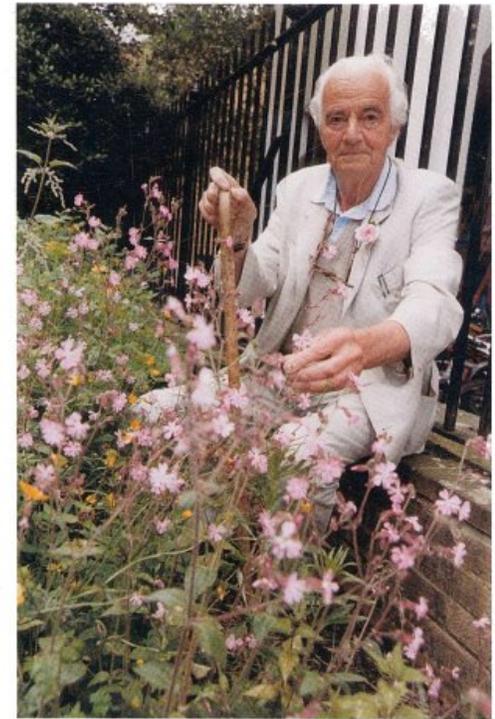

Occasional use of colour began in 1995 and became regular from 2006 onwards. The latest volume has moved to full colour production throughout.

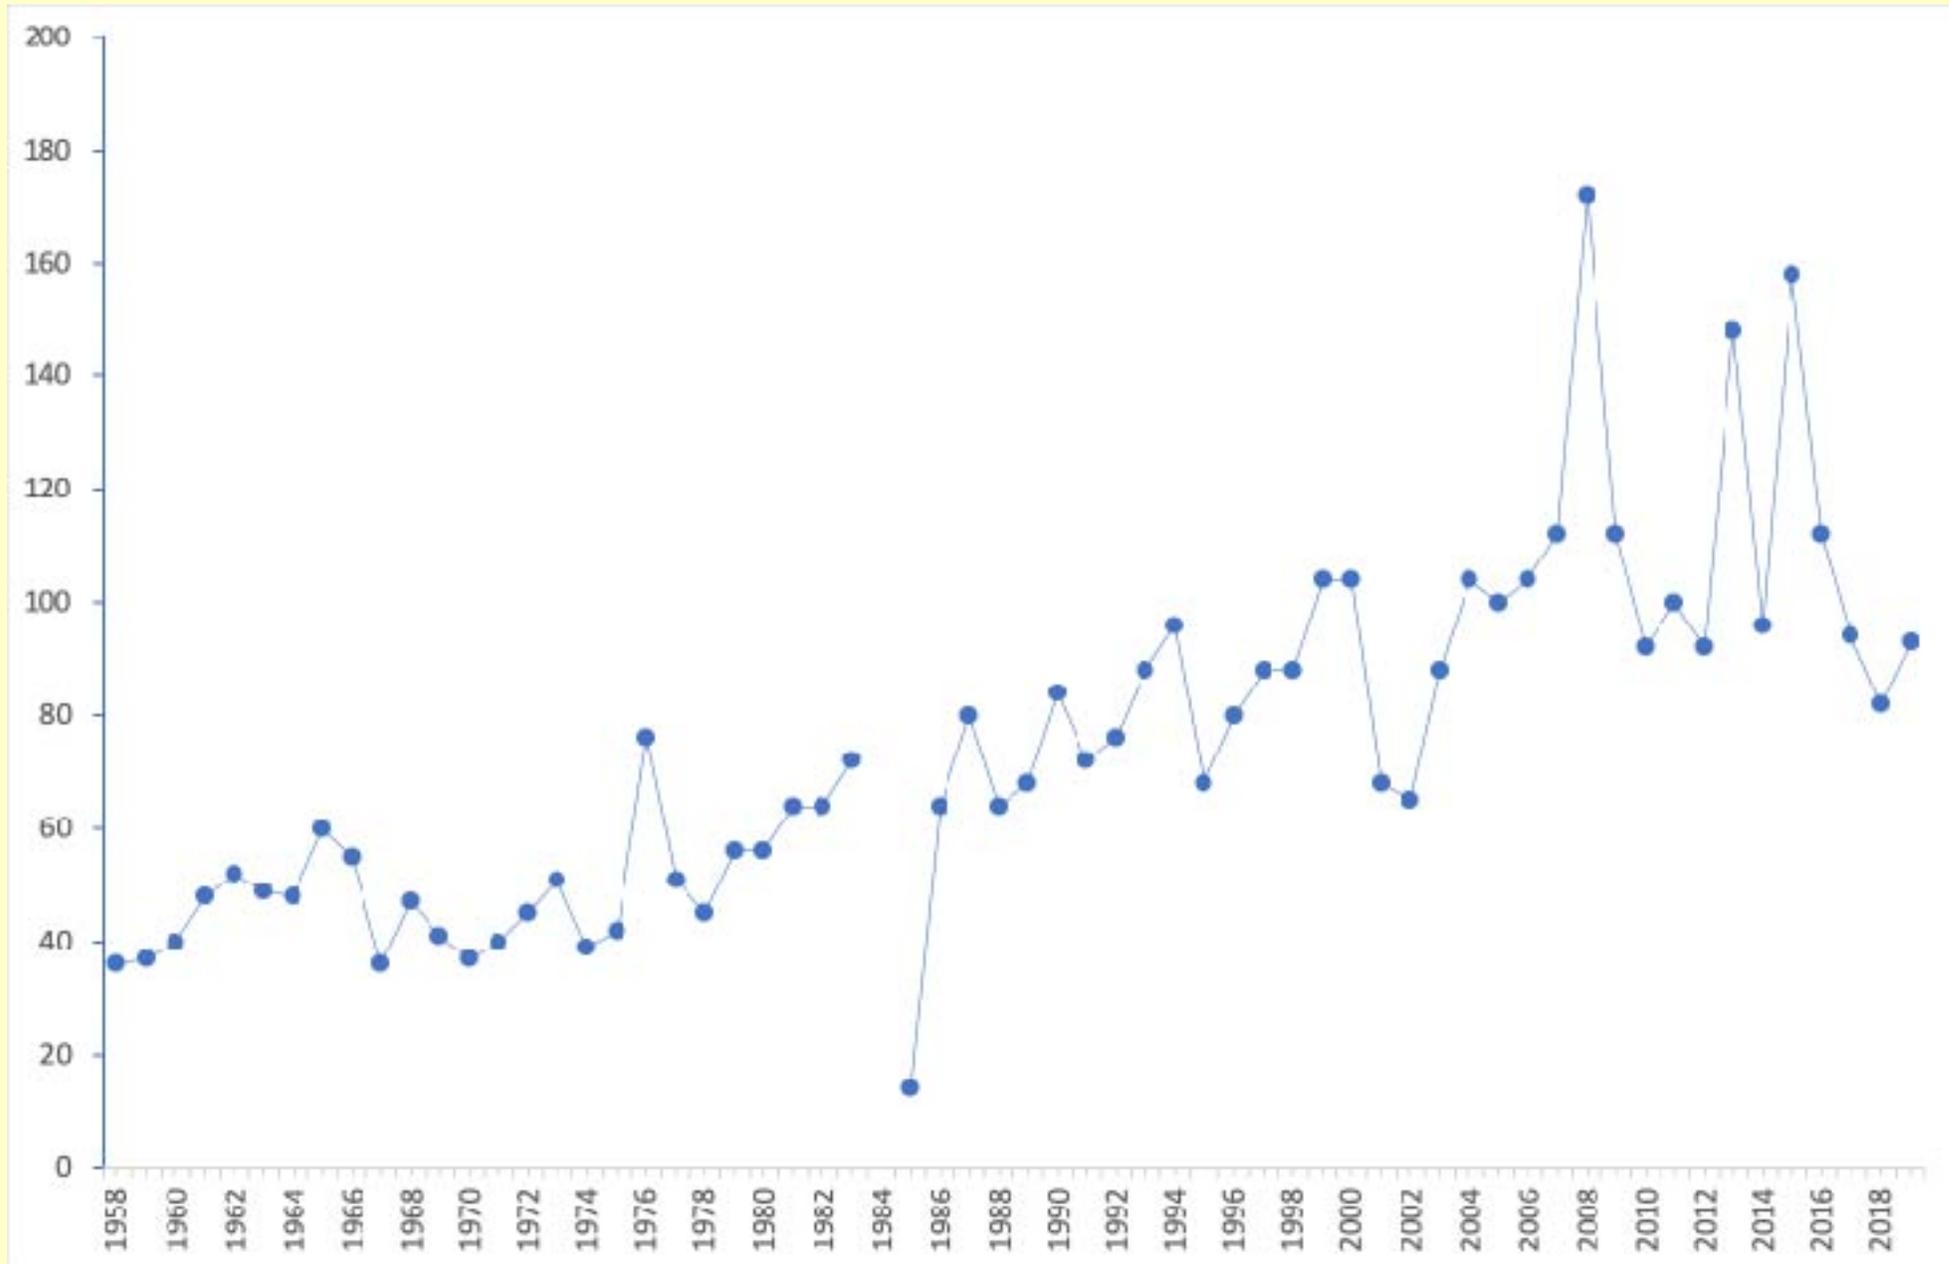

Max Walters was a strong supporter of the Journal and chair of the editorial board from 1986 – 2005.

NATURE IN CAMBRIDGESHIRE

No 48 2006

MAX WALTERS 1920 - 2005

The number of pages has increased over the years.

Special issues are occasionally produced, for example one commemorated Oliver Rackham in 2016.

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 51 2009

No 51: 2009
Contents | PDF

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 52 2010

No 52 2010
Contents | PDF

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 53 2011

No 53 2011
Contents | PDF

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 56 2014

No 56 2014
Contents | PDF

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 57 2015

No 57 2015
Contents |

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 58 2016

No 58 2016
Contents |

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 61 2019

No 61 2019
Contents |

Nature in Cambridgeshire

No 62 2020

No 62 2020
Contents |

The Journal is mailed to a list of subscribers and paid for in arrears. The current price is £8.50 including postage.

To subscribe, or purchase recent back issues contact: Nature in Cambridgeshire or c/o Mark Hill, 11 Chaucer Road, Cambridge, CB2 7EB

For more information see the web page where older back issues are freely available in pdf form.